

Preschoolers are getting ready for a Thanksgiving treat.

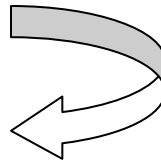

Lilien Nelson-Boutros and Autumn Marston are donning their Pilgrim hats that they have made.

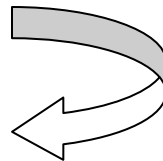

Kindergarten students in Mrs. Whitehall's class were asked to help the Thanksgiving turkey disguise himself so he wouldn't be eaten!!! The kids were very clever in the ideas that they came up with.

Tucker Pinger and Michael Smith work with Mrs. Sedam to bake corn bread.

Third grade and 1st grade students worked together to cook and play Early American games .

Mrs. Waters works with both third grade and first grade students to teach them an Early American game.

Preston Huston, Halle Heath, Larissa Neeld, Natasha Nelson, Autumn Marshall, and Parker Townsend pose in front of an Indian home at the Putnam Museum.

Mrs. Waters 3rd grade class recreated different types of Indian homes.